John C. Duffy has had a new picture taken, which appeared in Sunday's Courier-Journal.Ten brothers of one family in Cologne entered the German armies and all but one have been killed.Direct trains are now running from Berlin to Constantinople, through the Balkan states.George Carr, of Yarmouth, joined the English army last March when 14 years and two months old and spent six months in the Gallipoli campaign when he became invalided with dysentery and was sent home.
He is getting well and is anxious to rejoin his regiment.Germany is now producing for civilians serviceable shoes without leather. The soles are of thin panels of wood glued together while the uppers are of waterproof knapsack canvas. The heels are of wood with a piece of rubber covering. These "war shoes" sell for $1.50 to $2.The Daviess county grand jury investigated the hauling of tobacco to market on Sunday by many farmers who have long trips to make, but failed to find indictments for lack of evidence. Witnesses testified that hundreds of wagons hauled tobacco on Sunday, but none of them could give definite information.Most of the 200,000 Belgians in England are now assimilated into English life. About 60,000 of the 80,000 men, nearly all unfit for military service, are employed as workmen. Large numbers of the women are employed as house servants.
The entirely helpless are maintained in refugee camps.The American members of the Ford peace party, except those associated with the smaller peace board, sailed from Rotterdam Saturday for New York. About 150 came away, leaving 30 at the Hague.
These are expected to return to Stockholm as soon as they can to hold their permanent sittings.Emperor William's father died 28 years ago of the same kind of throat trouble that is believed to have a fatal hold on the world's greatest monarch. The Kaiser will probably die before the present year ends. It may be the Lord's way of ending the world war in which William is the dominant figure.Grand Duke Nicholas has been heard from again and is defeating the Turks in the Caucasus along a 100 mile front, driving them back towards the Persian front where the British are again reporting progress.
In that country the winters are mild and the Turks bid fair to have a busy season.The scheme to create the new county of Pike out of the eastern half of Pike county, is being seriously considered. The principal obstacle in the way is the fact that Pike has only 786 square miles of territory, when 800 is necessary, since no county can have less than 400 square miles. To overcome this difficulty it will be necessary to survey both sides of the mountains that run through the county instead of figuring area with no reference to elevation.Carranza, with the Mexican idea of ignoring law, has declared an open season for bandits. Any man being free to kill a bandit wherever he finds him, and be his own judge of the bandit's guilt. In other words, everybody is free to go gunning for everybody else, since all Mexicans are alike in their contempt for organized justice.

FEEDING FOR WINTER EGGS

It is Never Advisable to Feed Heavily During Early Hours of Day—Keep the Hens Scratching.In feeding poultry, it is never advisable to feed heavily during the early hours of the day. A hen gorged with food early in the morning, will have no incentive to exercise—will lay around the roosting quarters and take on fat. In feeding for winter eggs the appetites of the hens should never be fully satisfied until just before they go to roost at night.During the winter months I always feed the first food of the day in deep litter, says a writer in an exchange.
The scratch grain is composed of equal parts whole wheat and cracked corn.
A mash food is never fed early in the morning, for the reason that it fully satisfies the appetites of the hens and they will not work diligently in the litter. The wet mash is fed at noon or shortly thereafter. The mash is composed of two parts bran, one part each of middlings, cornmeal, cut clover, beef scrap and ground oats, with the hulls sifted out. The hens are given all they will eat of this mash. If any is left after the hens are through feeding, it is removed and given to the hogs. About an hour before dark the hens are given all they will eat of whole corn and wheat and sent to bed with full crops. Grit, charcoal and oyster-shell are kept before them all the time.

KEEP LITTLE PIGS GROWING

Eastern Breeder Describes Plan of Weaning Youngsters—First Give Oats and Milk.To keep pigs growing properly they should have as little set-back at weaning as possible. This is the way that an eastern breeder describes his system:"Before my pigs are weaned I teach them to eat and they are ready and eager for their meals when they are weaned. I first give them oats and milk, putting the oats in a trough, pouring the milk over them so they cannot get too much milk at one time.
If I am short on milk, I put oil meal and middlings in milk and pour it on the oats. This plan starts the pigs eating while they are still suckling their mother and it is the best feed I have used for this purpose. As they get older I feed oats separately and make slop of oil meal one quart, middlings three gallons, milk and water 20 gallons. Then put 20 pounds of dry bran in the troughs and pour on the slop and turn them in. Give them only enough so they will clean it up well as if they wanted a little more.
This keeps their appetites just sharp enough. A little corn is fed also and at eight months old these pigs will make as good as you will find."

PRACTICAL GATES FOR FARM

One Recently Invented by California Man—Device is Mounted in Space Between Two Posts.Practical farm gates are always worth a second thought. Here is one recently patented by a California man.
There is a keeper post and a pair of spaced diagonally offset posts, the gate being mounted in the space between the posts. Brackets connecting the posts are disposed at the ends and center of the lengths of the posts, a stirrup being pivoted to the central bracket between the ends of this and straddling one of the gate rails and Practical Farm Gate.

having a roller connected at its free end, on which the gate rail rides, to support the gate against downward movement. An upper and lower bar is used as a hanger for the gate, this having a roller at the front end, which rides on the rail. The two pivotal points of hanger and the pivotal point of the stirrup are disposed in the same vertical plane.—Farming Business.

SPREADING STRAW ON FIELDS

Helps Prevent Soil Blowing and Affords Protection for Crops—Adds Needed Humus.Where straw is present in such quantities that it cannot be worked over by live stock it can be spread directly on the fields.It helps to prevent soil blowing and serves as a winter protection for the crops. As it gradually decays it becomes a part of the soil in the form of humus or decaying organic material.The scattering of the old straw stacks found on the big wheat farms will pay well for the labor expended.
Now that special straw spreaders have been constructed it is not such a big task to spread the straw produced.Scientific Farming.
No farming is scientific and progressive that is not practical. The most practical farmer is the most progressive farmer, and the most progressive farmer is the most scientific.

Effect of One Bottle.

Crandall, Tex.—"After my last spell of sickness," writes Mrs. Belle Teal, of this city, "I remained very ill, and stayed in bed for 8 weeks. I could not get up all this time, and though my doctor came to see me every day, he did not do me any good.
I had taken but one bottle of Cardui, when I was up, going everywhere, and soon I was doing all my housework." Cardui helps when other medicines have failed, because it contains ingredients not found in any other medicine. Pure, safe, reliable, gentle-acting—Cardui is the ideal medicinal tonic, for weak, sick woman. Try it.—Advertisement.

Lovingkind Misunderstood.

No matter where they were, he made love to her. Their engagement had lasted for several weeks, but he could scarcely bear to wait for comparative privacy to whisper his devotion and to ask for vows of constancy. And so it was that he murmured sweet somethings across the little glass-topped table in the drug store where they were consuming cooling beverages and messes. He looked deep into her sparkling eyes. "You are all mine!" he breathed. And then a doubt seemed to come over him, and he whispered anxiously: "Could you bear to think of another?" "Oh, darling!" she whispered, blushing a little. "I've already had two. But I don't think one more fruit sundae would hurt me. You're so thoughtful, dear—and so extraordinary."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The Climax.

"We had a bad accident the last time we were out motoring." "What was it?" "We were so unfortunate as to knock down a man and fracture his skull." "That was bad." "But that wasn't the unfortunate part of it. The man was holding a sharp knife in his hand, and the point of it punctured our tire."
